A History of the GAA in Killeavy

Over 125 years of history and many, many years of meticulous research will come together tonight as Killeavy GAC launches a History of the GAA in Killeavy. We cordially invite everyone to come along to join with us on this truly historic occasion. Speakers will include County Chairman Paul McArdle, Armagh GAA Historian and journalist Peter Makem and the book's author Oliver McDonald. The evening will start promptly at 7.30pm. Full report in next week's bulletin.

Strictly Come Killeavy

We are gearing up for a great night's entertainment at Strictly Come Dancing on 5th December. The night is all about fundraising with the intention of making a big dent in the £150,000 needed to build our new 3G facility. Each pair of Strictly dancers are tasked with raising money through their own fundraisers and there are a number of these coming up over the next few weeks. Some are aimed at adults, some at younger people and others at the whole family. We would ask that you give whatever support you can – it will all end up in the one pot.

- Sun 8th Ciaran & Marian present Strictly Big Breakfast
- Sat 21st Orla and Timmy present Girls Pyjama Beauty Party
- Fri 27th Helena & Tom present Traffic Light Disco Party

Full details on all these fundraisers are available on our Facebook site. The names of the celebrity judges have been announced for the main event on 5th December. Armagh's Benny Tierney, Down's Dan McCartan, Sligo's Sunday Game panellist Eamonn O'Hara and our own Cairn Boyle will be sizing up the talent in their own inimitable style. Get your tickets soon – they are selling fast. A night not to be missed.

Scór na nÓg 2015

The county semi-finals for Scór na nÓg take place this weekend with Killeavy's competitors being split over both semis. Tonight in Whitecross, our Solo singer Riona Stuart (pictured right) will take to the stage along with our Instrumental group and the Ballad Group. On Sunday evening, in Clann Eireann, it will be the turn of our Quiz team and our second solo singer Grainne Cromie. We appreciate the support of all their parents and family members and wish them every success.

Hurling News

Pictured above are the u10 hurlers who played in the Derrynoose tournament last Sunday. On a bright but cold morning the young hurlers from Killeavy got to play four great games of hurling. Each boy played with spirit and passion and exhibited all the skills they are learning on a Monday evening. After the games the Derrynoose club provide a hot meal for each of the children which was greatly appreciated by the boys and rounded off a fantastic morning of fun and hurling. The winter programme for the u10's (P5/P6) and u8's (P3/P4) will begin on Monday 9th November. Please keep an eye on Facebook for the times.

Snippets

There was an amazing turnout for the annual underage presentation in the Social Club yesterday evening. Our thanks to special guests Owen Reel (Ladies Board); Maria Vanthorpe (Camogie Board) and Michael O'Neill (Minor Board) and to our senior stars Sharon Reel, James Donnelly and David Grant who were on hand to present the awards. Pictures available soon on Facebook and in next week's bulletin.

Our u21s will know who they face in the county final after this Sunday's clash between Pearse Og and St. Patrick's.

Tickets are on sale now for our next big fundraising effort – A Day at the Races in Fairyhouse on Sat 20th February.
