Killeavy Sevens

Teams from four counties: Armagh, Derry, Down and Louth took part in the Killeavy 7's last Saturday and made light of middling weather conditions to put on a real feast of fast and exciting football. When all was said and done, after about four hours of football, we were able to congratulate new champions in Kilcoo from Down who defeated Derry's Swatragh in an excellent final. In the Shield competition, Kilkerry from Louth pulled away in the second half against a visibly tired Killeavy II who had outdone expectations by reaching the final.

Our thanks to our main sponsors Paul Rocks and Bennett's Jewellers seen presenting a watch to Kilcoo's Conor Laverty who was named player of the tournament.

There was a lot of praise also for our new 3G facility (pictured below) which hosted many of the games including the Shield final.

 Peter Mc Keever @bigpete1974 · Mar 27
Huge thanks to @Killeavy13 for having @davittswatragh down yesterday. We had a fantastic day! Same time next year?

 Marc Clifford @marcliff · Mar 26
Nice win in @KilleavyGAA 7s shield today for @KilkerryEmmett @LiamDuffy1972 superb effort #winning

 Kilcoo GAC @KilcooGAC · Mar 26
Thanks to @KilleavyGAA for invite today's sevens tournament. Well done to all the lads. #UTM

The final thanks for a great day must go to Steven McDonnell who organised the entire day and all the Killeavy members who helped out.

Feile News

The draw for Féile 2016 was held last night and we are off to Ballincollig in Cork from June 24th - 26th. Ballincollig is only 5 miles from Cork City so accommodation for players and supporters will not be a problem - why not make a weekend out of it?

Our hurlers will be taking part in the Armagh Féile in Camlough tomorrow with games against Craobh Rua and Sean Traceys. Could a famous double be on the cards?

Snippets

There will be no bulletin next week because of holidays. Watch out therefore for the start of the Intermediate league on 10th April with Killeavy hosting Mullaghbawn while our Junior team get their campaign started in Ballyhegan.

Our Senior Ladies are up and running and will play Crossmaglen in Killeavy tomorrow evening while our Senior Camogs are off to St. Brigids on Wednesday evening for their first league game.

Note that the Senior Hurling game against Bunrana scheduled for Sunday has been cancelled as Bunrana have pulled out of the Ulster League.

On Monday evening our minor footballers start off with an away match in Cullyhanna while our minor ladies are at home to Silverbridge.

Killeavy Camogs will host the Rose Boyle Memorial Tournament on 16th April. They would be grateful for your support through programme advertisements. Please see Facebook for more detail.

Irish Language classes will begin on Monday 4th April with a Beginners class from 7.00-8.00pm and an Improvers class from 8.00-9.00pm. The classes will run for 10 weeks costing £2 per class.
